Use this chart as a reference to see how different beer styles taste relative to one another.
Beers on the left hand side may have more elements of citrus, tropical fruit, floral and spice.
Beers on the right hand side may have more roasted, graham cracker, caramel and toffee notes.
Beers on the top section scale from balanced, to less bitter and finally into genuine sweetness.
Beers on the bottom section are all about the hops: piney, resinous, aromatic, herbal and yes, bitter.
