Rum

Rum is a distilled alcoholic beverage made from sugarcane byproducts, such as molasses or directly from sugarcane juice, by a process of fermentation and distillation. The distillate, a clear liquid, is then usually aged in oak barrels.

Rum plays a part in the culture of most islands of the West Indies, as well as in The Maritimes and Newfoundland. This beverage has famous associations with the Royal Navy and piracy.

Tequila and Mezcal

Tequila is made from the blue agave plant. It was first produced in the 16th century in the town of Tequila, in the state of Jalisco, Mexico. It is made with Blue Weber Agave (agave azul), which grows in the ideal climate and soil of the highlands of Jalisco. This agave takes 8-10 years to mature and is then harvested by hand.

There are different types of tequila, each with their own flavor and character. Blanco, or silver, tequila is made from unaged agave. It is clear in color, has a slightly sweet flavor, and is used in cocktails such as margaritas.

Reposado tequila has been aged for at least two months in oak barrels. It has a mellower flavor than blanco. Añejo has been aged for at least one year, and extra añejo has been aged for at least three years, in oak barrels. They have a rich, smooth flavor and are often enjoyed neat or on the rocks.

Mezcal is made from a different type of agave, the maguey agave, and is usually made in a more traditional, artisanal way than tequila. Joven mezcal has been aged 0-2 months, Reposado mezcal for 2-12 months, and Añejo has been aged for a minimum of 1 year.
